

SIGN-ON FOR LIFE GUARDS

THE Ithaca Caloundra Life Saving Club has had members patrolling Bulcock Beach for almost 50 years and has never encouraged Junior Life Guards until now.

On Saturday, September 28, the club will hold a sign-on day at the Esplanade clubhouse for new members, young or old, but particularly juniors who will be welcomed into the fold for the first time.

The club's trainer, who has children herself, will train the junior lifeguards between 8 am and 9.30 am each Sunday and, although it is recommended that children of primary school age be already able to swim, each child will be enrolled on their own merits.

The youngsters will be able to gain lifeguard awards as they progress through the life saving programme.

Enquiries can be made any weekend at the clubhouse on Bulcock Beach or by phoning Helen Morris on 0409 878 089.
