Boards arrive just in time

Generous donation aids kids' life saver training

JUNIOR lifeguards at Bulcock Beach are ecstatic about their new training boards.

Thanks to a generous donation from an anonymous benefactor and a small amount of fundraising, the youngsters have 10 new seven-foot training boards to use this season.

Chief instructor Henry Webb said the boards would help boost the children's confidence and skills, and the donation was well-timed as the existing boards were reaching the end of their useful life.

The junior lifeguards meet weekly on Sunday mornings from October to March at Ithaca Caloundra
