Award pays tribute to a quiet achiever

FROM the moment Glenda Lloyd saw her alcoholic mother fall face first into a plate of spaghetti, she knew the kind of parent she did not want to be.

She was only five years old when she resolved she would never repeat the memory.

The 60-year-old was this week awarded the community award in the Sunshine Coast Australia Day awards after 34 years as a foster carer who has looked after more than 100 children.

A NOTORIOUS Sunshine Coast beach was

Members of Ithaca Caloundra City Life Saving Club, who patrol Happy Valley on weekends, arrived just before 8am to find their clubhouse torn apart and littered with bottles and rubbish.

Walls had been punched in and expensive equipment, including a specialist first aid kit worth several hundred dollars, had been stolen.
